For 34 years, FIU Architecture students have participated in and celebrated Walk on Water, a race founded and orchestrated by Professor Jaime Canaves. Each student designs and constructs shoes that will allow him/her to walk the length of the Green Lake at the heart of FIU's Modesto A. Maidique Campus.

In Fall 2016, WOW opened the competition to students from across the country. Students from the University of Florida and Palm Beach State College competed with FIU students for scholarships and were granted travel awards from our sponsors. In addition to the standard race awards, Walk on Water was able to award graduate assistant scholarships, travel scholarships for study abroad programs, and awards.

The event will occur on Tuesday, October 31, 2023 with approximately 100 students participating in the race. A favorite activity of the Fall Semester, Walk on Water is attended by students, faculty, staff, alumni, community members and media who watch with excitement as they cheer for the winners - and for the ones who fall in! Media and press outlets cover the event nationally.

How to get involved?

- Give a one time cash donation to student scholarships
- Provide a gift-in-kind donation for materials or supplies to help with student expenses
- Donate media or advertising space to spread the word

Your gift counts!

- Cash donations go to student scholarships, travel awards, materials, and event expenses
- Gift-in-Kind donations reward students and bring together alumni, community members, and the university at large in supporting talented students.
- Media sponsors help engage the local and national community to show what is happening at FIU as well as inspiring creative thinking and design.
