COLLEGE OF COMMUNICATION, ARCHITECTURE, + THE ARTS POLICIES AND PROCEDURES FOR TENURE-EARNING
FACULTY APPOINTMENT, TENURE, AND PROMOTION

Adopted by CARTA Assembly: 5-20-16, revised 11-29-16

SCOPE

Article 1. Applicability

Section 1. The requirements of this document apply to the appointment, tenure, and promotion of faculty members in the schools and departments contained within CARTA.

Section 2. Each candidate for tenure and/or promotion must be reviewed at one local level prior to submitting his/her application for the CARTA review. That review will take place in the local unit most closely aligned with the faculty members' specialization in research, creative work, and teaching--the unit administered by the faculty member's immediate supervisor who conducts the annual evaluation. This will be a department or a school that functions as a department. If a School contains Departments, then the faculty member will be evaluated at the Department level.

OBJECTIVES

Article 1. Purpose

Section 1. This document establishes college-wide requirements for the appointment, tenure, and promotion of faculty members in the College and its local units.

Section 2. This document also establishes college-wide requirements for the evaluations and recommendations pertinent to the appointment, tenure, and promotion of faculty members in the College and its Departments and Schools.

Section 3. This document requires that the local units (Departments and Schools that function as Departments) establish faculty appointment, tenure, and promotion requirements particular to their disciplines and professions.

POLICIES

Article I. College Criteria

Section 1. The faculty of the College must demonstrate commitment to the value of the creative spirit of the human mind and body in the pursuit of knowledge and in the creation of art, design, and performance.

Section 2. The faculty of the College must demonstrate commitment to personal and civic enrichment through cultivation of the creative imagination, intellectual curiosity, and aesthetic expression.

Section 3. The faculty of the College must demonstrate the qualities of mind and spirit that promote collegiality among the faculty member, students, administration, and staff.

Article II. College Criteria for the Evaluation of Performance in Teaching

Section 1. The faculty member must demonstrate highly competent performance in the scholarship of teaching. As appropriate to each program, evaluations and recommendations must consider the merit of the instruction, including extent and significance of course content, curricular enhancement, aesthetic and intellectual currency, instructional innovation and collaboration, and support and mentorship of students.

Section 2. Consideration must also be given to recognition of teaching, such as publications on pedagogy, invitations to review student work, publication or exhibition of student work, performance or production of student work, faculty awards for teaching, awards and prizes for student work, peer reviews of instruction, student evaluations of faculty, and, where customary, contracts and grants funded to develop and conduct instruction.

Article III. College Criteria for the Evaluation of Performance in Research and Creative Work

Section 1. The faculty member must demonstrate highly competent performance in the scholarship of research or creative work, or of both research and creative work, as applicable to her or his academic and professional development.

Section 2. As appropriate to the standards of the faculty member's discipline or profession, evaluations and recommendations must consider the merit of the research, including extent and significance of the inquiry, analysis, and synthesis. Consideration must also be given to recognition of the research, such as publications and presentations, citations and quotations, and, where customary, contracts and grants funded to conduct research.

Section 3. As appropriate to the standards of the faculty member's discipline or profession, evaluations and recommendations must consider the merit of the creative work, including extent and significance of artifacts, compositions, designs, installations, performances, presentations, and productions. Consideration must also be given to recognition of the creative work, such as citations, critical reviews, competition prizes, design awards, exhibitions or publications of the creative work by others, performance or production of the creative work by others, invitations to create or design, invitations to perform or produce, and, where customary, contracts and grants funded to conduct creative work.

Article IV. College Criteria for the Evaluation of Performance in Service

Section 1. The faculty member must demonstrate highly competent performance in the scholarship of service. As appropriate to the standards of the faculty member's field discipline or profession, evaluations and recommendations must consider the merit of the service, including extent and significance of the professional service to the community and to the discipline or profession, and institutional service to the Department, School, College, and University, inclusive of collegial governance.

Section 2. Evaluations and recommendations must consider the merit of service, including extent and significance of participation in award and competition juries, editorial boards, publication and presentation review panels, grant review panels, accreditation boards and teams, academic and professional associations, professional registration boards, work pro bono publico in discipline or profession, and presentations and publications for the general public on discipline or profession.

Section 3. Consideration must also be given to recognition, such as awards, honors, certificates for university, professional, and community service, and, where customary, to contracts and grants funded to conduct the service.

Article V. College Criteria for Academic and Professional Development

Section 1. The faculty member must hold the appropriate academic degree and professional credentials, and must demonstrate highly competent performance in the scholarship of her or his academic and professional development.

Article VI. Department and School Criteria

Section 1. Each Department and School that functions as a department may establish separate and specific criteria for scholarship in and recognition of teaching, research, creative work, and service required for faculty appointment, tenure, and promotion in each of their disciplines and professions.

Section 2. The criteria in each Department/School will address the nature of faculty member work that is both in and about art, design, or performance.

Section 3. The criteria in each Department/School will establish the form, venue, context, and peer-review process for each type of scholarship and recognition.

Article VII. College and School Procedures

Section 1. The College Assembly, College Council, and College Tenure and Promotion Committee will develop, maintain, and recommend procedures for annual evaluations, third-year progress reviews, and tenure and promotion application reviews for the College and its local units in accordance with the Board of Trustees-United Faculty of Florida Collective Bargaining Agreement.

PROCEDURES

Article I. Annual Evaluation

Section 1. The annual evaluation procedure will be implemented in compliance with applicable Department, School, College, and University requirements.

Section 2. Faculty members will submit their annual goals and accomplishments to the Chair or Director, if applicable, after each academic year by May 1. It is the responsibility of the faculty member to demonstrate compliance with applicable to the Department, School, College, and University requirements.

Section 3. The Chair or Director, if applicable, will review the annual goals and accomplishments, write the annual evaluation, provide the evaluation to the faculty member, and discuss the evaluation with the faculty member by the dates established by the Board of Trustees-United Faculty of Florida Collective Bargaining Agreement.

Section 4. The Chair or Director will communicate same to the College Dean each year by the end of the Spring Semester.

Article II. Third-Year Progress Review

Section 1. The progress review procedure will be implemented in compliance with applicable Department, School, College, and University requirements, including the schedule published by Academic Affairs.

Section 2. Tenure-earning faculty members will submit a complete progress file to the Chair by March 1 of the review academic year. It is the responsibility of the faculty member to demonstrate compliance with applicable Department, School, College, and/or University requirements.

Section 3. The School or Department Tenure and Promotion Committee will meet to review the progress file, vote on the progress, and write an evaluation on the progress made toward tenure to the Dean, with a copy to the faculty member, Chair or Director, if applicable) by the date set by Academic Affairs (typically late March).

Section 4. At the discretion of the Department or School, the Committee referenced above may meet with the unit head (Chair or Director, if applicable) to discuss the evaluation.

Section 5. At the discretion of the Department or School, the unit head (Chair or Director) may elect to meet with the CARTA Dean to discuss the evaluation the candidate received from the unit's Tenure and Promotion Committee.

Section 6. The Dean will review the progress file, write an evaluation on the merit of the progress, and make a recommendation to the Provost, with copies to the candidate, unit head (Chair or Director), and the local unit's Tenure and Promotion Committee, by the date set by Academic Affairs (typically mid-April). If the recommendation differs from that of the Department or School Tenure and Promotion Committee, it will include the reason for the difference. The Dean will send the progress file to the Provost.

Article III. Tenure and Promotion Application Review

Section 1. The application review procedure will be implemented in compliance with applicable Department, School, College, and University requirements, including the schedule published by Academic Affairs.
